Developing Age-Friendly, Disability-Friendly Official Community Plans: Guidelines for Local Governments

- ◆ A new resource providing guidelines and examples of best practices to help local governments develop age-friendly and disability friendly Official Community Plans (OCPs) will be out this fall. This online resource will give local governments advice on how to use their OCP to make their communities fore accessible and inclusive for people of all ages and abilities.

16% of people living in BC communities have a disability

Almost 15% of people are age 65 or older—and in most communities, the percentage of seniors is increasing rapidly

This new resource will be available on the UBCM website.
